TOOK CARBOLIC ACID.

But Richard Lunnie of Newport, Although Burned, Will Recover.

Newport, N. H., Nov. 20.—Richard Lunnie, aged 23, drank carbolie acid in the presence of his sweetheart Saturday evening.

"It is said that Lunnie, who is employed at the McElwain shoe factory, went to Mrs. Barton's house in an intoxicated condition, and asked to see Miss Blanche Morse, who lives there. Mrs. Barton ordered him to leave her house and he answered: "No, not until I see her," meaning Miss Morse.

Mrs. Barton then threatened to send for a policeman. Lunnie replied: "If you call a policeman he will carry me out of the house dead."

Mrs. Barton became frightened at this and she sent for Lunnie's brother, George. He came, but before he could get his brother out of the house Richard had taken a bottle of carbolie acid from his pocket and swallowed the contents. His face and lips were badly burned and he suffered great agony. Dr. J. E. Cain gave medical aid, and it is thought that Lunnie will recover.
